

2018, starting point of a new development for M-Optics !!!

I'm happy to inform you that VISUOL Technologies SAS - www.visuol.com - based in Metz (France), has been taken over by V-Optics SAS, a daughter company of M-Optics - www.m-optics.com -.

- M-Optics develops, manufactures and sells, high precision measuring instruments to professionals like opticians, ophthalmologists and corrective lens manufacturers.
- V-Optics carries on the VISUOL Technologies expertise to control and measure surface quality of diverse materials, especially on transparent and light reflective surfaces.

The natural complementarities on business and technological activities, coupled with the synergies between M-Optics and Visuol Technologies, already brought in the past both companies to join efforts in corrective lenses industry field. Both teams, now located at the same place, will work closed together and will succeed to increase the synergy's potential.

Together, M-Optics and V-Optics provide:

- Automated measurement (metrology) and quality control machines for the ophthalmic and eyecare professionals in the broadest meaning of the term (doctors, opticians, intra ocular lenses and contact lenses producers, spectacle lenses manufacturers and labs)
- Turn-key solutions for industrial companies in order perform an objective functional and esthetical quality control of light reflective surfaces and transparent materials, as glasses, plastics and composites for the automotive industry per example.

Including "VISUOL"'s expertise into V-Optics, was for M-Optics the opportunity to consolidate its knowledge in the field of metrology applied to transparent and reflective materials, with the capacity to qualify the surface's quality of those materials.

The name VISUOL and brands QualiLENS, QualiSENSOR and QualiSURF are now operated by V-Optics. The highly qualified technical and scientific staff of Visuol also joined V-Optics in order to offer customers and partners the best ongoing service and much more.

Kind regards,

Moreno LUCCHESI,
President of M-Optics SAS and V-Optics SAS
